

International Narcotic Enforcement Officers Association
Undercover Survival School
April 20 thru 24, 2009
Virginia Beach, Virginia

Hosted by the Virginia Beach Police Department

This intense undercover course concentrates on the physical and psychological survival of the undercover officer. Although it is designed for newer officers, even experienced officers will benefit from the survival principles of this course. The student will learn the principles of risk management, effective negotiation skills and to effectively operate within the guidelines of the law and departmental policy. The attendee will learn to capitalize on all elements of communication, to draw power from every element of verbal and non-verbal communication and to identify and capitalize on all sources of information and intelligence. A unique aspect of this course is the newly added section on Internet undercover operations and Internet undercover survival.

Attendees will learn through class lecture, numerous challenging role playing scenarios, shared experiences, case reviews, hands on firearms and defensive tactics drills related to undercover survival and concealed weapons carry techniques.

Course topics include:

Risk Management	Undercover (UC) Survival
Court Testimony	Concealed Weapons Carry
UC Communications	Internet Undercover Survival
Negotiation Skills	Working with Informants
Clan Lab Issues	Ethics and Professionalism
Defensive Tactics	Close Quarters Firearms
Difficult Situations	Technical Surveillance Issues
Outlaw Biker Gangs	Operational Planning
Legal Issues	Reverse Undercover Ops
Money/Drug Flashes	Money Laundering Ops
Body Language	Managing the Undercover

Course tuition is $550.00 per student. This includes all course material and literature. Each student must bring 200 rounds of ammunition for their concealed firearm(s).

For group pricing, lodging information and/or further information, contact Charles H. Noonan at train\_2\_win@live.com or 954-232-2109.